Mermaid Beach Surf Club

On the 16th of August 1945, the war in the Pacific was declared over. At this time the Royal Australian Defence Force started to demobilize its war machine. Soldiers from the Australian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers unit were assigned to wait for discharge on the sparsely habited sandy beaches of Mermaid beach. To occupy their free time, soldiers became active in starting this local lifesaving club.

The original clubhouse was built from scrounged material on the beachfront at Ocean Street, eventually moving to this very spot. These founding members named their new club Mermaid Beach A.E.M.E Surf Life Saving Club.

The Mermaid Beach Surf Club Balcony is available for functions and special events. Our venue is situated on Hedges Avenue, Mermaid Beach offering spectacular views of the Pacific Ocean.
